Summary of Congressional Comment Regarding
Southeast Asia - 26 June 1964

Senator Wayne Morse referred to his appearance on the "Today" program the previous morning on the subject of the war in Viet Nam. He said this broadcast inspired more mail than he usually received on this subject and it was steadily in support of his position. Thereupon he placed in the RECORD more than nine pages of letters.

NOTE: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has scheduled executive hearings for 30 June to consider the nomination of General Maxwell Taylor to be ambassador to Viet Nam. Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee are being invited to this session.
